MEET OUR NEW PARISH COUNCIL MEMBERS

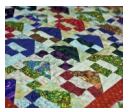

My name is Rebecca Miller and I've been a parishioner of St. Anna's since 2004. I've been married to my husband, Ron Miller, for 25 years and we have four children together. We live in Monroe and own and operate Peach State Disposal. I have served on Parish Council in the past and have also served as catechist on and off for a number of years. I hope to assist St. Anna's parish community in any way I can as a new member of Parish Council.

I am a dedicated and passionate church community member, committed to fostering a spirit of faith and service within our parish. With a background in community service and a deep love for our congregation, I have actively participated in various church activities and initiatives over the years here at St. Anna's. My goal is to support and enhance our parish's mission through collaboration and thoughtful leadership, ensuring that we continue to grow in our faith and support one another in our spiritual journeys. My wife and I moved to Social Circle in June 2021 and quickly searched for a new parish to worship God and follow Jesus Christ. We found St. Annas and looked no further. We have three adult children who live in and around North Georgia. Over the years, we were middle school catechists for 14 years as we took all three of our children through their faith journey. I worked as a team member of RCIA for several years as well. We were both eucharistic ministers. I served as a lector at our old parish and have continued that ministry here at St. Annas. I joined the Knights of Columbus (KOC) at St. John Vianney and transferred to St. Annas KOC when we joined the parish. I am honored to serve each of you, my brothers and sisters in Christ, on our Parish Council.
—Chuck Baird

ST. CECILIA'S CORNER THE WORK CONTINUES

As I near the two-year mark in my work here at St. Anna, I can look back with a good sense of accomplishment and the knowledge that we are just getting started. The business of sacred music and recovering the sense of beauty is a combination of hard work, teaching and a good dose of prayer. Holy mother Church shows us what we need to do. She has always shown us. It's just a question of us listening to what she says. So, where do we go from here? Rather than answer it in the negative, let's go forward in the positive. We have much to do and much to learn. We owe our children (of which there are many these days) to pass on to them the faith and the liturgy. The sheer beauty can leave us in awe and give us life where we need it. Catholicism is experiencing a revolution of beauty and aesthetics, not just here but everywhere. It will not go back to a previous era. That time is gone. Thus, we are obligated to look forward. Is it easy? No. But anything of value is never easy. And there will always be detractors. But it is easy to read in the lives of the Saints that there have always been those who fought against beauty and truth. These are the people I pray for the most. And lastly, sometimes conversion is a slow process and not a lightning moment. Rejoice in the work that has been done, prepare for the next tasks and in all things, pray. Or as my spiritual director says, "Work as if everything depended on you and pray as if everything depended on God."
